Dangerous Products that Endanger Children and the Elderly “Recall Round-up” Media Event

WHAT: In order to rid consumers' homes of dangerous household products the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission is joining with the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, State Fire Marshal and the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) in a “Recall Round-Up” product safety campaign. This is part of the seventh annual national effort to rid consumers' homes and thrift stores of previously recalled products that are still causing injuries and deaths. Senior citizens and children are especially at risk.

Hazardous and redesigned products will be on display. Video tapes will be distributed as well.
